SINCE 1963

Daytona

In 1963, Rolex released their first Cosmograph watch, called the reference 6239. Now, we know this watch as the Cosmograph Daytona. This particular model was a big step in shaping the Daytona watch we recognize today, especially because it had a special tachymeter scale on the metal ring around the face.

This particular model was a big step in shaping the Daytona watch we recognize today, especially because it had a special tachymeter scale on the metal ring around the face.

Bought this for my father and he has no trouble seeing the time now. Fits comfortably and so far (about a week) it's keeping time. It's light weight, water resistant and looks classy on my dad.

This watch is great people will definitely notice it lol it's huge. However I changed the band on mine from gold to a brown leather strap because i dont like to much gold and it looks even better now.

I like this brand of watches and I own others in different styles, but the same brand! They are not expensive and not too cheap! I will be purchasing many more watches for men and for women for gifts.

I knew that I wanted to buy this watch right from the moment I saw it! I received it in a very nice and solid package. It was very easy for me to size it to fit my wrist. I have received so many compliments not only because of the beautiful turquoise color face, but because of the entire look of the watch! It's water resistant and I never shower with it or sleep with it on. I clean it very often especially the days when I sweat a lot. Keeps time very well and has luminous details. I have recommended your company to many of my friends and family. I am a very satisfied customer!
